

Roesys MedTec GmbH is a young, medium-sized company in Espelkamp with a long tradition in the field of medical technology and digital imaging. We manufacture complete X-ray systems for imaging diagnostics in medicine and have customers all over the world.

To assist our QM department we are looking for immediate support:

One employee for quality assurance

Needs

- Completed technical or commercial education / studies
- Further training as a QM representative
- Basic knowledge of the standards EN ISO 9001:2015, 13485:2016 and MDD
- Ideally first experiences in medical technology
- Good communication skills
- Independent and goal-oriented work
- Personal initiative, flexibility, resilience and team spirit
- Knowledge in the application of MS Office products
- First contact points with ERP and CAQ
- Team player, good organisational and communication skills

Tasks

- Support of the QM management in the further development of the QM system
- Execution of internal audits
- Implementation of problem solving processes
- Test equipment management
- Support for quality inspections

Employment: 6 months trial period, limited to one year,
Conversion into an unlimited contract is possible afterwards